Brown being held at jail pending $500,000 bond

BY ELLIŞ C. CUEVAS Publisher Emeritus

A suspect in the murder of Shoreline Park resident Larry M. Jacob, who died last Saturday turned himself in Thursday afternoon, according to Sheriff Steve Garber.

Following questioning by investigators, Carl Lamar Brown was charged with Jacob's murder, Kenny Hurt, interim chief investigator for the Hancock County Sheriff's Department, said

Thursday.

The department issued a news release and photo late Wednesday, naming Brown, 29, as being identified as a suspect in Jacob's death.

Brown on Thursday gave himself up to officers of the Hancock County Sheriff's Department.

Jacob, 47, died on May 24, after being found semi-conscious by Deputy Mike Casano and rescue personnel on May 17, at approximately 2:45 a.m., as they responded to a report of an assault at 11053 North Shore Drive in Shoreline Park, according to a sheriff's report.

Brown, a carpenter by trade, was born in Gulfport, and is being held in the Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility in lieu of a $500,000 bond, Hurt said.

Jacob never regained consciousness. An autopsy was performed and the medical examiner ruled that the cause of Jacob's death was from a blow to the head with a blunt instrument, investigation

Purple Heart recipients E. Jones, Ray Funderburk and James Jackson.

Bay St. Louis Post Office ushers in the new Purple Heart Stamp

n Friday, the United States
Postal Service issued a new stamp carrying the image of the Purple Heart medal awarded to those wounded in combat.

The Bay St. Louis branch of the U.S. Post Office hosted a special ceremony Friday to commemorate, and issued the first of its new stamps to Purple Heart-recipient Ray Funderburk and other veterans Funderburk, a retired Army lt. colonel, is a Bay St. Louis resident and author. He was first stationed in Ft. Benning, Ga., where he attended both Airborne and Ranger schools; the was stationed in Germany, twice in Korea and served a combat tour in Vietnam in the Mekong Delta.

HAs the public affairs officer for the 9th Infantry Division in Vietnam, Funderburk had a staff of 17 professional jounalists, some of whom worked for major newspapers and television networks. his men went into combat with the infantry battalions and, as a result, accumulated 28 Purple Hearts. Funderburk himself was wounded twice coveing major stories.

A bust of General George Washington is the main feature of the medal that is purple and outlined in gold. George Washington's bust is appropriate because it was Washington who ordered the first medal be created in 1782 to award to his men for gallant service. Lost or misfiled for almost 150 years among War Department records in Washington, D.C., the General Order issued by General Washington authorizing the medal came to light as historians searched through records. The War Department announced the new award on February 22,1932.

To date, there are in excess of 500,000 recipients of the Purple Heart. Many of those are multiple recipients, having been wounded in combat two or more times.

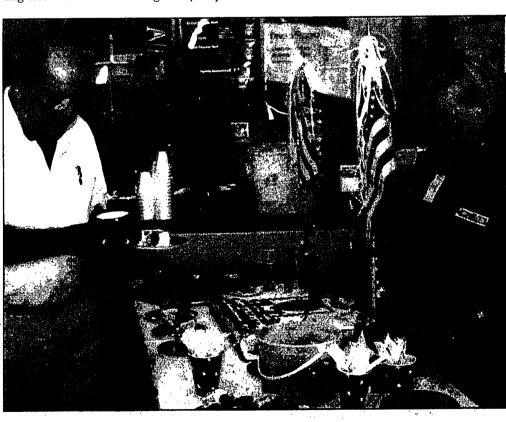

The Purple Heart is the oldest military decoration in the world still in present use.

Intrinsically, the Purple Heart is the world's costliest military decoration. Nineteen separate operations are required to make it from a rough heart stamped from bronze to the finished medal, plated with gold and enameled in various colors, suspended from a purple and white ribbon.

To be awarded the Purple Heart, one must be wounded by an instrument of war in the hands of the enemy. It is also awarded posthumously to the next of kin of those killed in combat.

An organization known as the Military Order of the Purple Heart (MOPH) was created in 1932 for the protection and mutual interest of all who have received the decoration. Composed exclusively of Purple Heart recipients, it is the only 'combat' veterans organization in existence.

The MOPH uses funds derived from sale of its official flower, the Purple Heart Viola, to provide welfare and service work to veterans. The Viola is assembled by disabled and needy veterans who have little or no other means of financial support. The Viola serves two purposes, it helps the veteran who assembles it and enables the organization to service hospitalized needy veterans and their families.

North to Alaska -- again

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Dr. Alan Shiller, professor of marine science for The University of Southern Mississippi, will return to the Yukon River in Alaska next week to determine how climate changes are affecting the river's relatively pristine environment.

Shiller, a marine chemist and director of the Center for Trace Analysis at Southern Miss, last visited the wilderness landscape of Alaska in September 2002. He will again team with a group of scientists from the United States Geological Survey (USGS) to take water samples for trace analysis.

Completed over the course of five years, this process will tell the scientists about the overall health of the river system and how climate changes will affect that condition.

"Because large-scale, integrated studies of river basins are so uncommon, the USGS program provides a rare and valuable opportunity to conduct a trace element study in a broader hydrological and hydrochemical context," Shiller said.

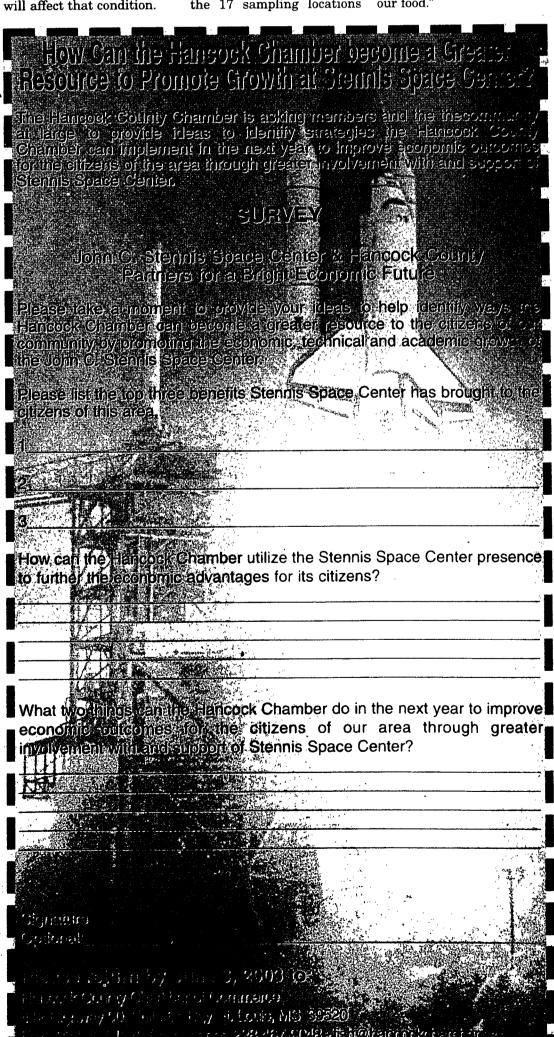

On June 1, Shiller will board an airplane bound for Fairbanks, Alaska, where he will drive roughly 100 miles to "the bridge" at a section of the Dalton Highway – the only span to cross the Yukon River in Alaska. There Shiller and the USGS team will take on the substantial task of sampling water in the lower 1,000 miles of the Yukon and its major tributaries.

"Success will be getting all, or at least most, of the water samples and discharge measurements at the 17 sampling locations we've identified," Shiller said. Last year, the scientists sampled the middle third of the river and they expect to sample the upper part of the river next summer. Shiller said that during the September trip to the Yukon he enjoyed the beautiful colors of fall in Alaska. This time, he expects to be greeted by more fauna than flora.

"We'll be there at the height of mosquito season," he said. To meet this challenge, Shiller will take with him a lightweight but densely woven "bug shirt" that is reputed to deflect all manner of biting insects.

Aside from successful sci-

Aside from successful scientific exploration, Shiller says he will judge his time well spent in Alaska if he accomplishes three things: "Survival, limited mosquito bites and bears not stealing our food."

Graduation, volunteers and boil water notices century has just flown by! Just think! It was 50 years ago yesterday when my classmates and I received our high school diplomas from St. Stanislaus.

The hour was 11 a.m. and the place was the old Stanislaus Gym. Air conditioning was none, only fans to cool the gym. Needless to say it was a very hot day, but very happy for the 50 of us.

Fifty years is a long time, yet it seems as if it was not too long ago.

The fact I keep hearing is the older one gets, the faster time passes by.

Still, the memories of school days linger.

At Hancock Medical Center, there is a team of some 50 men and women who serve as volunteers.

They do various volunteer jobs, such as giving directions, in the gift write letters for patients, and the list goes on an on.

Theresa Bourgeois is the director of volunteer services at Hancock Center, and Medical reports she can still use a few more volunteers.

Some the volunteers work a half day a week, some more time, it just depends on how much time a person wants to work.

For many years HMC's volunteers were referred to as Pink Ladies, but that name had to be changed since there are

This past half of a several men volunteers at

Over the years, and this has been many, the folks on the Clermont Harbor Water system have been complaining about poor service.

Several years ago Total Environmental Solutions. Inc. (TESI) took over the system.

This past Friday, TESI was scheduled to do maintenance on tying a new well in at Oak Harbor Subdivision.

Once again a "boil the water" notice has been issued by TESI, until water systems officials can begin collecting water samples for testing.

Dear Editor

Today it made the news that finally a warrant has been issued for Derrick Todd Lee, and Ms. Lynn Marino was on the Fox News Channel.

Lynn Marino is the mother of Pam Kinamore who was abducted last July 12 from her home in Baton Rouge and her body was found near Whisky Bay in Iberville Parish on July 16. Her throat had been cut and due to DNA evidence, Pam was linked to other victims of the alleged serial killer.

My heart went out to Mrs. Marino and the families of the other victims, but Mrs. Marino was very vocal on Fox News blaming the police for not connecting the dots earlier to catch Lee.

Mrs. Marino also said that her daughter left her door unlocked back because she was unaware that there was a serial killer on the loose. Mrs. Marino blamed the police for this also.

Most people will never have to worry about being killed by a serial killer, in spite of the media coverage of them, they are rather

Asper named de Montluzin Scholar

Alicia Asper, a National Merit Scholar and valedictorian this year at Our Lady Academy, has received the $2000 Emily de Montluzin Language Foreign Scholarship for 2003.

In August she will enter Messiah College Pennsylvania, where she will major in Spanish and international politics, planning to use her language skills in working on a professional level among the people of Central America. Eventually, she intends to return to the United States and become a professor of Spanish. .

She has already done volunteer summer work in Guatemala and in Panama, and she will take her junior year of college abroad in a Spanish-speaking country.

Asper's entire high school record is one of outstanding scholarship and service in many areas at her school. During her senior year she was president of the student body, editor-in-chief of the school paper, STAR student, and homecoming queen. Her grades for all four years have been straight A's, so that her unweighted grade point average is 4.0. Especially active in set designing, choreographing; and acting in productions of the school drama club, she is a talented classical guitarist as well.

Asper is the daughter of Vernon and Lindell Asper of Diamondhead.

The de Montluzin scholarship, awarded annually, was established in 1983 and is open to applications from high school seniors who have excelled in the study of a foreign language in any of the schools of Hancock County.

lead to more Nissan-style companies in this state. Some folks say it costs us too much money to lure industries like Nissan.

They say the state will go broke giving tax incentives, building roads and providing the infrastructure for such large plants.

Well, these folks need to leave their already comfortable homes and examine the real Mississippi -where folks need some better jobs. The way I see it, our state has been "broke" for 150-

That's nothing new. The only way to get un-broke is Mississippians have a stake to get more high-paying, in Nissan. Its success here good jobs in this state, giving people a chance to make a good living without leaving Mississippi, enabling them to make a life here, raise a family, spend money and pay taxes. Seems to me Nissanstyle development is precisely the medicine our state needs, particularly after the loss of so many low-end, low-paying manufacturing jobs.

Nissan and Nissan-style high-end manufacturing industries can bring about the next level of our state's economic development. On this level, pay starts not at $12,000 or at best $20,000 but at almost $35,000 with chances to make far above

On this level workers get good benefits, and they are considered an integral part of a team which must constantly strive for perfection in the incredibly competitive world auto market. Workers at Nissan won't toil in a musty old building with bad lighting, heating and no air. This is a state-of-theart, accommodating, production-oriented facility that will be here a long time if Mississippians rise to the challenge.

All Mississippi must support Nissan, and be aware of the investment this dynamic company and its respected leader have placed in us. will determine how well we attract other good jobs. We must demonstrate to the world that Mississippi is ready for the next step. We are ready to compete with the best in the world. Carlos Ghosn and the Nissan company saw that Mississippi is open for business, and they invested in our state. Now let's see if we can find some more good world-class partners like Nissan who want to join us in changing our economic culture, and in building more than cars, but also in building a bigger, better and brighter future for people.

rare, but they still have to worry about rapists, burglars and other types of criminals.

There is no excuse for anyone to leave doors unlocked. If someone really wants to get in a locked door may not stop them but it can be a strumbling block and the effort to break in might alert the potential victim giving them time to react and/or call the police.

We are all responsible for our own safety. Odds are the police will not be there when someone is being raped, robbed, murdered, beaten, etc. The police are not private security. They are law enforcement officers and are generally called after the crime has happened.

The average cop has a lot of area to cover and can't be everywhere all of the time. In Baton Rouge the cops not only work large areas but also have a high concentration of people to deal with.

Even with good DNA evidence being left where the victims were found, the Task Force still had an overwhelming job to first identify who the perpetrator was.

Now, not only do the police have to know who committed the crimes, they also have to be able to prove it in court.

Law enforcement in real life is much more difficult that the movies or TV would have you believe. The cops can't solve every crime in 30 minutes including commercials.

The members of the Baton Rouge Serial Killer Task Force received a lot of undeserved criticism over the past year and they couldn't always defend themselves to the victim's families, the public and the media because it could have compromised their cases.

There is no doubt that assistance from the public contributed to solving this but still the Task Force needs to be commended.

Sincerely, Rita Blaize-Watson Bay St. Louis

Necaise -- Purple Heart

Necaise joined the United States Marine Corps in 1962, at age 18, during the Cuban Crisis. He remained in the Marines until he received a Medical Discharge in 1977..

"In Vietnam, I was told" that I - at age 24 - was the voungest gunnery sergeant in the Marine Corps," Necaise recalls.

He served some 42 months in Vietnam and received his first Purple Heart on July 4, 1965, from a shot to his back, and a second on August 9, 1969, for a shot to his right arm and left hand.

Another wound was received when working with. a special CIA Unit in Cambodia in 1968, with Necaise receiving shrapnel to legs and body, which should have earned him a third Purple Heart.

Since 1987, Necaise has been employed by the Hancock County Sheriff's Department and has the rank of major and is the jail warden.

When he received his Medical Discharge from the Marines, he was a Master Sergeant.

Necaise even turned down a battlefield commission to Second Lieutenant during the Vietnam War.

His Marine commander, Major W.E. Russell, who later retired as a general, recommended Necaise for the special promotion.

Major Russell's statement about Necaise includes;

E' Co. 2nd Battalion, 3rd Marines during the latter part of March 1968. At this time, and throughout most of the period concerned, he was a Sergeant E-5. Although junior in rank for the position of platoon commander, SSgt. Necaise served in this capacity throughout nearly all of my assignment Commanding Officer of "E" Company, 2nd Battalion, 3rd Marines which terminated on Sept., 21, 1968. "SSgt. Necaise's first assignment in 'E' Company the Platoon Commander of the 2nd Platoon...

"SSgt. Necaise accepted this assignment eagerly, showing his exceptional potential and qualification for leadership by maintaining high morals and providing the personal example that kept his platoon of the Company which he commanded on the same level of performance in combat action as the other two platoons of the Company which were commanded by exceptionally capable commissioned officers.

"During the entire period of this statement, 'E' Company was engaged in heavy fighting with the "SSgt: G.I. Necaise joined , NVA (North Vietnam Army) forces in the Northern T' Corps area of South Vietnam. The tempo of fighting combined with the rugged jungle and mountainous terrain created situations where only truly outstanding leadership by officers and NCO's could produce the stimulus that makes a unit function effectively and remain victori-

"...This statement is made comparing this individual's performance of duty to that command of all the platoon commanders that served 'E' Company during my command. There was a total of thirty-one platoon commanders during this period. It is also based on close, first hand observation of this NCO leading his men on assaults through enemy positions during close-in fighting on three separate occasions." Necaise said, during this four-month period of heavy fighting, with only three platoons, that was the reason for 31 platoon commanders, of which he was one. Heavy replacements were due to platoon commanders killed, injured, or disabled by disease.

...It is requested that this individual be considered for commission under the provision outlined in MCO 1421.7B. It is also requested that the requirement of paragraph 4a.(4) be waived. This individual has the intelligence to understand fully all the instructions given to an officer, and his repeatedly shown himself to grasp ideas faster than contemporary platoon commanders with much higher GCT scores." W.E. Russell, Major USMC.

During his service as a Marine, including receiving two Purple Hearts, Necaise received some 28 medals, including the several Navy Commendation Medals with Combat "V."

When asked if he would do it all over again, Necaise said, "Yes, most definitely."

Taylor announces grant for USM

U.S. Rep. Gene Taylor announced today a $3 million grant for the University of Southern Mississippi (USM) given by the National Aeronautics and Administration Space (NASA). The funding will allow for the continuation and expansion of the coastal zone remote sensing center known as the Gulf Coast Geospatial Center (GCGC).

The GCGC will now be able to broaden its scope to include projects research to other areas of the northern gulf region. It will also assist USM researchers and participate in mutually beneficial programs with NASA.

This grant is truly going to help us learn more about our area. The more we know about our natural surroundings the better we can protect them," Taylor said. "USM does a great job and we are lucky to have their researchers and leaders working so hard for Mississippi. South Congratulations to the GCGC.'

Jobless rate drops

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) Mississippi's unemployment rate dropped slightly to 6 percent in April, state officials said.

The state's jobless rate in March was 6.2 percent and last April was 6.4 percent, Mississippi Security Employment Commission reported Friday.

The unadjusted national unemployment rate for April was 5.8 percent.

MESC executive director Curt Thompson said job gains came in the leisure and hospitality sector as the summer tourist season begins.

Some 1,600 jobs were added in hotels, food services, arts, entertainment and recreation, he said.

About 200 manufacturing jobs were cut in April, and overall manufacturing was down 8,500 jobs compared to last April.

At 2.7 percent, Lamar County had the lowest jobless rate in Mississippi in April. Rankin County had the second lowest rate at 3.2 followed by percent. Oktibbeha County at 3.4 bercent.

Jefferson County had the states' highest rate for the month at 17.7 percent, folowed by Holmes County at 5.5 percent and Wilkinson and Webster counties at

Jobless rate drops

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) Mississippi's unemployment rate dropped slightly to 6 percent in April, state officials said.

The state's jobless rate in March was 6.2 percent and last April was 6.4 percent, Mississippi the Employment Security Commission reported Friday.

The unadjusted national unemployment rate April was 5.8 percent.

MESC executive director Curt Thompson said job gains came in the leisure and hospitality sector as the summer tourist season begins.

Some 1,600 jobs were added in hotels, food services, arts, entertainment and recreation, he said.

About 200 manufacturing jobs were cut in April, and overall manufacturing was down 8,500 jobs compared to last April.

At 2.7 percent, Lamar County had the lowest jobless rate in Mississippi in April. Rankin County had the second lowest rate at 3.2 percent. followed Oktibbeha County at 3.4 percent.

Jefferson County had the states' highest rate for the month at 17.7 percent, followed by Holmes County at 15.5 percent and Wilkinson and Webster counties at 14.6 percent.

yan Chotto, an Diamondhead, may be one step closer to stardom after June 4.

He was chosen as one of 24 finalists in the new reality series, Fame, on NBC. On the series premiere last Wednesday, three contestants were eliminated and three moved on to become the first of 12 finalists.

Chotto's fate will be decided on Fame's second show airing on Wednesday.

Trina Keel said her son auditioned in April in New York, where he has been residing since September 2002. He was chosen among 16 other contestants in New York. Chotto and his group then joined 51 other performers from Chicago, Los Angeles and Miami.

Famed choreographer Debbie Allen then cut the group of "dancers who sing" and "singers who dance" to 24. Chotto and his peers then traveled to Los Angeles where Allen sent them to her dance studio for "boot camp."

Now, Chotto will perform in front of celebrity judges to compete for a slot among the 12 final-

His family and friends in Mississippi will also be watching.

Keel said she will have Fame party Wednesday to watch her son compete.

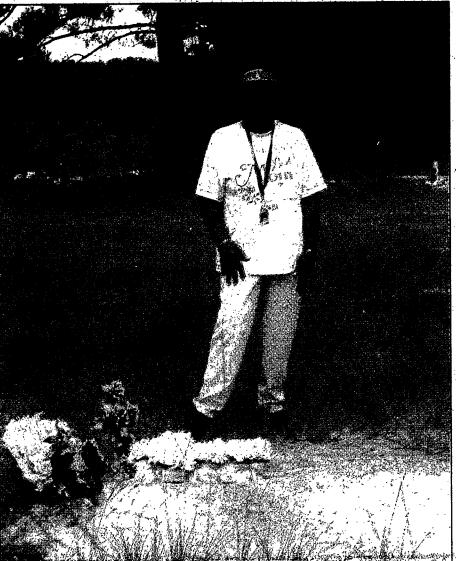

"I'm elated," she said. "Seeing him fulfill his dream brings me a lot of joy." Keel said her son is ecstatic but still very nervous.

Although she remains optimistic about her son's success, Keel said this will be a beneficial experience for him whether he makes it to the finals or not.

"Just working with Debbie Allen is great for him," she said. "This is wonderful exposure."

Fame airs on NBC every Wednesday at 7 p.m. Watch in the Sea Coast Echo to follow Chotto's progress.

Even the air is different up there, says Lillian Rogers, of her old home, Log eyes of someone who had called it Town. People were forced to move their entire lives when many communities in home. Rogers had been a resident Hancock County had to make way for the John C. Stennis Space Center. of Log Town. Rogers' first husband and the father of her six children, John Lee, was recently buried in the black cemetery at The Point, the old black settlement at Log ed off of 7th St. in Pearlington, I Town. The cemeteries are the only connection to the past for many now.

MISS LILLIAN'S Log Town

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER Staff Writer

hat is history? Surely it is more than statistics and dates that are recorded in a book. To many, history is the remembrances of the people who were there and those memories may be as similar or as varied as the people themselves.

For many of the communities that were once in Hancock County, Log Town, Santa Rosa, Gainesville, Napoleon, Stevenson, Westonia, the memories of the people who were there are all we have to remind us of what once was a vital part of local life.

In 1961 the people of these towns were asked to move ... everything ... businesses, homes, their lives to make room for a dynamic new rocket test facility and federal city. But just what did we give up to gain the John C. Stennis Space Center ... the answer depends largely on who you ask.

I hadn't spent much time in the Stennis Buffer Zone, other than like everyone else to drive through on the way to some other place. It seemed to be just a big empty area full of overgrown vines and trees, pretty, but nothing special. But last week Lillian Rogers of Pearlington changed all that for me, as I took my first look at a small part of the Echo Staff Photo by Bennie Shallbetter 138,500 acre expanse through the couldn't quite get a feel for the dynamics of the old town, and I felt that she was not comfortable quite with her remembrances. So when she mentioned that her beloved parents house, moved from Log Town, was just down the street, I asked if we could go look at it. On the way, I began to understand the magnitude of what had happened to Log Town and the other communities.

As we drove, Miss Lillian pointed out other homes that had been moved, including her own original home, and I noticed buildings that had housed businesses that she had mentioned, all moved, and put neatly in place, on new lots in a new place, but still somehow strangely out of place, never having quite shed the image that they had been ripped out of their natural surroundings.

"It's strange," I said. "Isn't it," she said.

"Would you want to take a drive out to the old cemetery," I asked her "Sure, I love to go," she said.

On the way Miss Lillian asked if I wanted to go to the black cemetery or the white cemetery. There were two, as there were two sections of town, blacks living in a section of town called The Point, she said. We started with The Point and the black cemetery, where her mother and father and other relatives were buried.

Miss Lillian and her daughter Vanessa, who had stopped by to bring her breakfast earlier, had talked a lot about what a peaceful place that Log Town had been. Somehow the very air was different up there, they said, not like it is here, but clean, and it just made you feel good.

When I got out of the car at the cemetery, the first thing I noticed was that they were right. The air on the hill was indeed clean and clear and charged with a kind of energy that just wasn't present right down the road.

"You were right about the air," I said. "It is different, isn't it," she

And the air made Miss Lillian remember.

She pointed to places that were now just an over growth of trees, remembering a house, a business, a church that used to be there, as if it were there only yesterday. I could almost see the activity and hear the voices of the people so long ago, still present in the wind that blew through the giant pines.

It didn't look like it does now," she said. "All growed up and people dumping trash everywhere ... it was cared for and people took care of things. We were like a family, everyone helping everyone else. We were raised to stick together. And integration, we didn't need that. If

Mississippi students falling behind in

ACT score average JACKSON, Miss. (AP) high school juniors, so they Mississippi students are falling further behind the entrance college exam's national average score and state College Board members want to reverse that trend. While the national average score climbed from 20.6 to 20.8 from 1992 to 2002, it dropped in Mississippi from 18.8 to 18.6.

The top ACT score is 36. We are disturbed," said College Board member Carl Nicholson JrHattiesburg. "We want to do what we can to help the high schools to do better." College Board officials said one remedy is to encourage more students to take the college prep curriculum in high school. The other, said board can review weaknesses and improve their scores in their senior years. Higher education officials also want the universities, the state Department of Education, the junior colleges, students and parents to develop strategies to boost scores.

`These scores are basic to the success of persons in college," said Pam Smith, an assistant higher education commissioner.

Mississippi was among six Southern states where ACT scores slipped; nine others saw improvements, such as Alabama, which went from an average score of 19.8 to 20.1.

Officials said 23,395 Mississippi students took the ACT in 2002. Officials say a growing number of members is to encourage students taking the test students to take the ACT as contributed to the drop.

THE ARTS moves forward, elects new officers for board

THE SEA COAST ECHO THE ARTS, Hancock County Mississippi took another giant step at last Wednesday's meeting.

The resolution by the Hancock County Board of Supervisors endorsing THE ARTS was presented and the interim Officers and Executive Board were officially announced. Board members were selected to serve as an interim board because the by-laws are yet to be finalized.

Officers include Gwen Impson as president, Colleen Read as vice president, Angela Sallis as secretary, David Woodburn as treasurer and Tracy Gunderman as board officer.

Rounding out the executive board are ex-officio members Tish Williams, director of the Hancock Chamber of County. Commerce: Beth Carriere, director of the Hancock Tourism County Development Bureau; and Mary Perkins, public affairs director for the Hancock County Library System.

. Other board of directors positions include: Schonda Sweeney as web site chair, Harrison Miner as graphics chair, Nan Ehrbright as public relations chair, Claire Haun as recruitment chair, Nancy Finlason as special events chair and Jackie Wintuba as education chair. Impson said that further board positions as well as the honorary board are in the works.

Colleen Read offered space at the Centre for Creation, 101 Washington Street, to serve as a repository for the organization's materials. Anyone wishing to donate cabinets or office supplies can contact her at 467-9477.

Tish Williams reported that she will be looking at several studies conducted by the Mississippi Art Commission to see how they relate to Hancock County. One example is the "Arts Mean Business" economic impact study that was conducted several years ago. Anyone wishing to assist in this project can call the chamber at 467-9048.

Beth Carriere briefly described plans for applying for a tourism grant and using the funds to stage a tourism campaign focusing on all the arts in all of Hancock County. She will have more details at a later the American Cancer Society dedicates more money to research than any other nonprofit, non-government source of cancer research funds in the United States?

Since 1946, at the inception of the American Cancer Society's research program, the organization has given more than $2.5 billion dollars to support cancer research.

Currently in Mississippi, American Cancer Society devotes more cancer \mathbf{to} research. The American Cancer Society is curmulti-year grants totaling almost $333 million nationwide.

This vear Mississippi, it is estimated that 14,900 people will learn they have cancer and 6,200 people will die from the disease. The American Cancer Society believes that research holds much promise in helping those who are suffering from cancer.

The American Cancer Society funds researchers on the frontlines in the fight against cancer. The organization has been involved with many of the cancer research breakthroughs of the cen-

Plauché visits Congress for libraries

Tima Plauché, director of the Plauché, Reid, Hancock County Library System and president of the Mississippi Library Association, was among seven members of the association representing Mississippi urging Capitol Hill legislation to support libraries as part of the 29th National Library Legislative Day held May 12 and 13 in Washington

Other members of the group included Robert director, Lipscomb, Harrison County Library System; Sharman Smith, executive director, Mississippi Library Commission; Jim Anderson, director, First Regional Library System; Randy Sherard, trustee, Warren County/Vicksburg

Library Mississippi Commission; and Deb Mitchell, director, Warren County/Vicksburg Public Library.

The group met with members of the Mississippi Congressional delegation to seek support for legislation now pending in Congress.

Plauché said the local group met with U. S. Senators Thad Cochran and Trent Lott, Brian Martin, aide Congressman gene Taylor. Chris Espy, aide to Congressman Bennie Thompson; and Chip Congressmen Pickering and Roger Wicker.

"Libraries need continued federal support for changing technology if we are to keep pace with the rapid growth in library use," Plauché "Although our library receives much of its support from state and local funds, federal assistance stimulates local dollars and helps stretch them further."

we wanted to go to something the whites were having we just went and if they wanted to come to something that we were having they did too."

People were friendly and always greeted one another, she said, and they would usually stop and talk.

Once, after she was married, she lived in New Orleans for a while, and she would cry every day because people in the city were not warm and friendly like they were in Log Town, she said. Miss Lillian's step father

Prince Rogers (her mother Gussie married Rogers after Lillian's father Earl English died) worked at the Stevenson saw mill and was happy to get the job in December of 1941, she said, just weeks after the attack on Pearl Harbor.

She was 12 when the family settled in Log Town and were able to buy a home there. The Wheat's and the Sams' were neighbors, she recalls.

She had begun doing domestic work at the age of 9 and continued that while in the ovster factory across the river in Louisiana, she said, and she rode into Slidell with some other girls to work planting gardens. She used the money to help her parents pay for the house.

"Most of the men worked at the saw mill," she said. "And the younger men worked hauling paper wood. She and other women worked for families in the area, the Baxter's, the Weston's, the Fountains and other families.

Kids made their own fun, she said, and didn't have all the toys that kids have today. Sliding down hill behind Mr. Moultrie's bar on cardboard boxes was fun then (the bar now sits at 7th and 5th in Pearlington) and swinging on the limbs of the giant Oak trees, making dolls out of straw, wagons out of bicycle wheels, and going to the fair that came every year was what they did.

And play ball. And of course church was and still is a big part of life for Miss Lillian.

She was a Baptist before she married, but later she and her family attended the Big Mt. Zion African Methodist American Episcopal Church, she said, now Greater Mt. Zion in Pearlington.

As we drove toward the main street of town in Log Town proper she recalled that her mother would send her to the store and she would say, "I don't want you to play along the way either."

"I would have to hurry and sometime I would run all the way," she said. "I would go down the street and people would be sitting on their porches and they would call out to me and say hello. There was the mill by the river and the store right over there and the post office."

doesn't allow you to see very far and I finally headed in to shore where Stella was still standing. Gretal was not with her.

We stood there on the sand for about an hour pacing about, asking people walking on the beach or in cars if they had seen her. We really didn't know what else to do. In desperation, more of wanting to do something rather than with any hope of success, I went out in the boat and looked around again with no luck. Just as I returned and was pulling the boat up on the sand, I heard Stella shouting. I ran to where she stood pointing.

"There's Gretal!" "Where?"

beach!" I looked. Finally, I made out a speck coming down the sandy beach from Bay St. Louis. I quickly got the glasses and looked. It was Gretal!

We waited and she came up to us and we hugged her and she licked us and we hugged her some more. She was wet, tired and full of sand and so were we. Stella took her to the house for a hose bath and I stayed to take in the sail.

I was tired and took my time securing the boat to the post and folding up the sail. I sat on the Sunfish for a few minutes looking out at the water. Finally, picking everything up, I carried "There! See? Down the them up toward the house.

When I got there, Gretal, washed clean, was lying on the warm planks of the porch, letting the sun dry her coat. I sat down beside her and watched her as she

It had been a long day. Gretal continued to go out with me for many years after that, and we continued to have a lot of fun together. But as she got older, I had to leave her on the beach more and more. It wasn't as much fun without her and after awhile I didn't go out as much either. When she passed away several years ago, I stopped going out altogether.

Advertising is an investment in the success of your business. Every business has some kind of competition, either within the town, nearby city or from mail order firms. Your potential customers are being courted by your competitors. If you do not invite those customers to do business with you, they are likely to forget you and buy elsewhere. It is not uncommon for consumers to switch their trading from one store to another. Advertising helps to keep old customers and equally as important, make new ones.

Our community is constantly growing which means that potential customers are moving into the market area all the time. Advertising gives these newcomers a reason to visit your

Most businesses budget for their advertising expenses just as they do for other necessities such as rent, phones, etc. Smart business people realize that advertising is imperative to keep their business growing.

Another reason to advertise is that advertising is news! You profit by telling our readers what is new in your store. Through advertising, you can let a wide audience know the product lines you carry, the quality of your merchandise, the completeness of your service and the character of your store.

If you have something to sell, then you have something to advertise. When you have nothing to advertise, you are out of business. Advertising is designed to build your business and works best when it is repeated regularly. Consistent advertising pays off! Now that you know some of the reasons to advertise, you're probably wondering how you can advertise most effectively. Surveys show that ads in local newspapers have more impact than in any other medium. The Sea Coast Echo goes into the majority of the homes in Hancock County. The Sea Coast Echo is full of interesting reading, it is a part of our community. People like to read about people and The Sea Coast Echo is full of pictures and stories about local people. The most important reason to advertise in The Sea Coast Echo is that our readers are your customers.

If you're looking for the best advertising value for your money, then you should contact the advertising department at The Sea Coast Echo. One of our advertising representatives will be happy to discuss the many advertising options offered by The Sea Coast Echo. For more information you may call 467-5474, Monday through Friday 8am to 5pm, or stop by our office a t 124 Court Street, Bay St. Louis.

inveterate Aspen hiker/adventurer/mountaineer, he was completely in his element climbing over canyon boulders on the last Saturday of April when a near 1000-pound boulder shifted, pinning his right hand against the wall. Chipping away at the boulder and cliff wall was as futile as trying to lift the boulder using his climbing gear. What to do? No cell phone to call 911.

In three days he ran out of water, and shortly thereafter he polished off the last crumbs in a chocolate bar wrapping. His sleep was short and fitful. And not a sign of a human being within hailing distance in the vast wilderness. Aron was there precisely because the area was wild and so out-of-the-way. That is why he knew his chances were slim that anyone would happen along hiking or whatever. As the enormity of his plight settled in, fear and grave doubt soon set in. Aron began to think the unthinkable as dehydration and shock took over with no prospect of anyone stumbling upon the scene.

The unthinkable, amputating his arm, began to cross his mind. "I could never do that!" several friends told me. "Well," I suggested, "what if you took into consideration that a wandering black bear or mountain

As a rescue helicopter hove into view, a Dutch couple and their son happened upon Aron, much to his relief. Medical help and a prosthesis were anticlimactic. It comes as no surprise to any of us that Aron Ralston had barely made it out of his horrible situation when speculation was bandied about concerning the possibilities of movie scenarios and rights. Deservedly, no doubt. However, one thing bugged me about a statement of several media people: "I have never seen anything like this in my whole life.'

How is it possible that not a single elder statesman in the media anywhere in the country, especially in the deep South, disputed the claim never to have heard of any incident like this? The fact is, there was one which occurred on Highway 11 leading from Louisiana to Mississippi. We need to inquire why that incident was so ill chronicled.

Creel, a day laborer in his forties, was driving his sedan when he suffered a single-vehicle mishap which flung him to the ground and left him with an arm tightly pinned to the earth by the overturned car. Creel waited as long as he dared for someone to drive up and rescue him, but he got very antsy as his car engine began to smoke. He would have to do something.

Fearing fire, he began to weigh his options which all boiled down to rolling the dice that his car would not catch fire, or cutting his arm off in order to escape. Just as Ralston did, Creel made a quick judgment that he would have to sever his arm. Almost as if he were laving down the scenario for Ralston, he fingered around for a break in the bones of his

Once he established that there was a clean break in his forearm, he pulled out his pocketknife, gritted his teeth and proceeded to cut through the muscles and ligaments around the break. Unlike Ralston's pocketknife, Creel's was relatively sharp, and thus did a faster, more efficient job. Of course, help drove up the highway only after he had completed the severing. So, why did the entire media of a whole country forget about such a stark, com-

Creel's case is but the tip of an enormous iceberg filled with thousands of amazing minority stories down through the years. Moved by triggers badly tainted by racial and other biases and prejudices, our U.S. citizens are exposing their social and spiritual failings by false or even no reactions. ing to slap us down? Well, that's the belief a lot of people have and they are still in kindergarten mentally.

The news media is not much different. Wars, earthquakes and other natural calamities are called "Acts of God". How about calling them "natural calamities"?

This misunderstanding of God is caused by the fact that we don't read or study about Him; neither do we talk to Him very much We really don't know Him!

It is this writer's belief that we were created to have fellowship with him, and to get to know him personally. What other reason would God have created us?

He wants us to share our 19) lives with him; and he wants.

Do you know Him in a personal way? Can you say?: "The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want. He makes me to lie down in green pastures, He leads me beside the still waters, He restores my soul. He leads me on the path of righteousness for his name-

Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death. I shall fear no evil, for He is with me; His rod and His staff do comfort me. He prepares a table before me in the presence of my enemies, He anoints my head with oil, my cup runneth over. Surely, goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life, and I will dwell in the House of the Lord forever. (Psalm 23)

Do you believe that? Can we not see that, God loves us immeasurably?

Casino Magic Bay St. Louis will present a double dip of Four Tops

THE SEA COAST ECHO he Four Tops will bring their special brand of harmonizing to Casino Magic Bay St. Louis Friday & Saturday, June 6 & 7 at 9 p.m. each evening. Tickets are $14.95, $19.95, and $24.95 and are available at the Casino Magic Box Office, by calling 1-800-5-MAGIC-5, or at any Ticketmaster location.

The Four Tops have been marveling audiences with their unique blend of pure vocal power and unparalleled harmonies since 1954. They have brought to the American people and the world a sound so singular that it is woven into the fabric of American pop music.

Hits like "Baby, I Need Your Lovin'," "I Can't Help Myself (Sugar Pie Honey Bunch)" and "Reach Out, I'll Be There" topped the charts and became anthems of a generation. The Tops were a sensation abroad as well

At a time when the U.S. charts were dominated by the Beatles and the Rolling Stones, The Four Tops sat like kings at number one in England.

Later came more hits like "Ain't No Woman (Like the One I Got)," "Keeper of The Castle," "Are You Man Enough" and "Am I My Brothers' Keeper?" The Four Tops were stunning audiences with their live performances, sweating their soul on stage proving that their blend of emotional stage persona and unforgettable songs had launched them to the pinnacle of the entertainment world.

In the early 1980's, The Four Tops recorded two albums, showcasing such monster hits as "When She Was My Girl," "Tonight I'm Gonna Love You All Over" and "I Believe In You and Me." Later, they recorded "Indestructible" which garnered rave reviews.

In 1990, The Tops were inducted into the Rock 'n Roll Hall of Fame, and in 1997 were honored with a star on Hollywood Boulevard, adding to their growing list of awards and accolades. Sadly, in June of 1997, one of the Tops. Lawrence Payton, died of liver cancer.

The Four Tops had 44 years together and then there were three. Originally, the three decided to go on and sing and to continue doing what they had started to do years ago - to bring joy to millions through their music. Then along came Theo Peoples (former member of The Temptations) who fit in perfectly, so once again

there are Four Tops, still true to the soul, memory and performance of Payton. Generations can close their eyes, hear a Four Tops tune and it catapults them to a memory. This group has the distinct pleasure of marking a part of American culture with their music.

Today, The Four Tops are going strong, performing to standing room only crowds all over the world, delighting old and new fans alike.

Their powerful, recognizable sweet harmonies and unforgettable voices have firmly established their status in music history as musical legends!

Don't miss the Four Tops only at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis Friday & Saturday, June 6 & 7. Must be 21 to attend.

Satchmo SummerFest is Aug. 1-3

THE SEA COAST ECHO

After a successful second annual Satchmo SummerFest, which saw attendance figures double from the inaugural event, organizers are already looking forward to next year.

The third annual Satchmo SummerFest will take place August 1-3 at the Louisiana State Museum's Old U.S. Mint, 400 Esplanade Avenue, and other locations throughout the "birthplace of jazz," New Orleans.

Festival-goers can plan to enjoy more of what made the first two festivals so special – free live jazz performances, delicious Crescent City cuisine, "edutaining" seminars, handson children's activities, art exhibits, a "Satchmo Club Strut," a rousing Jazz Mass and authentic second-line parade and much more.

With so many festivities planned, it's no wonder why the Satchmo SummerFest is quickly becoming a summertime favorite among locals and visitors, while increasing visitor numbers during a month that many considered to be a slow tourist season.

Satchmo SummerFest is a unique hometown salute to Louis "Satchmo' Armstrong and his extraordinary contributions to jazz music and American culture, held on the weekend closest to his official August 4 birth date.

The festival began as a one-time centennial tribute to Armstrong in 2001. However, the event's success prompted producers to embrace Armstrong's legacy and continue the festival, making Satchmo SummerFest the only annual Armstrong-themed festival in the United States, according to the Louis Armstrong House and Archives of Queens College, New York.

"We are thrilled to be able to perpetuate Armstrong's music and memory," said Sandra Dartus, Satchmo SummerFest producer and executive director of French Quarter Festivals, Inc.

'We look forward to this continued opportunity to showcase his contributions not just by reflecting on the past, but by providing an in-depth look into his influence on today's culture. To be able to pay tribute to our native son, right here at home, is truly an honor."

Satchmo SummerFest is sponsored by the Louisiana Office of Tourism and is produced by French Quarter Festivals, Inc., the non-profit organization that also produces the French Quarter Festival in April and Christmas New Orleans Style in December.

Call (800) 673-5725 or (504) 522-5730, or visit www.satchmosummerfest.c om for details or to book specially priced hotel accommodations.

Sherri Shepherd

Checking in with Sherri Shepherd

By Jacqueline Cutler

Sherri Shepherd specializes in playing the girlfriend women turn to for advice.

As Ramona in ABC's Tuesday-night "Less Than Perfect." she has no problem telling people they are stupid. Her other roles in sitcoms also have taken advantage of Shepherd's tell-it-like-itis nature, which comes through as easily on television as it does in per-

"I knew I wanted to be famous at 4." she says at a Los Angeles party. "I was always the one saying, 'Watch me do

Growing up in Chicago, and then in white suburb Hoffman Estates, Shepherd was a Jehovah's Witness. She rang doorbells "every Saturday until I was 17," she says. "People don't slam doors in a kid's face. But when you hear a kid telling you Armageddon's coming, you listen." Shepherd listened to her father, who insisted she learn to type because she did not want to attend college. She became a legal secretary and was making $60,000 a year before quitting to follow her dream of acting.

At first, Shepherd did stand-up comedy by night and typed briefs by day. Her big break came on the 1995 TV sitcom "Cleghorne!" and she has worked steadily since.

Though no longer a Jehovah's Witness, Shepherd is Christian and active in church. She and her husband of two ears, comedian Jeffrey Tarpley, want

In the meantime, Shepherd loves her life and her role on "Less Than Perfect." She especially appreciates the way costumers dress her and star Sara Rue, who are fuller-figured than most TV actresses, but more like most American women.

They put me in miniskirts and little sweaters," she says. "I love going to work every single day."

Hometown: Chicago. Birthdate: April 22, 1970.

Loves to: Sing "We Are Family" at karaoke clubs.

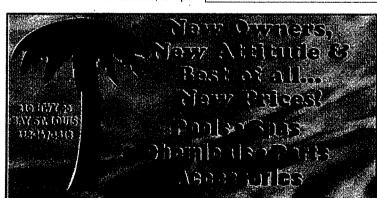

Pets: Two dogs, Angel and Shatzi. Favorite movie: "Antwone Fisher." Favorite book: The Bible.

TV: "Holla," "Wednesday 9:30 (8:30 Central)," "Emeril," "Suddenly Susan," "Holding the Baby," "Claude's Crib," "Cleghorne!"

Frequent guest appearances: The Jamie Foxx Show," "Everybody Loves Raymond."

How she keeps grounded in Hollywood: "You've got to know that this is make-believe," she savs.

Goals: "I would like to do drama films," she says.

Featured Best kiss category brings heat to MTV Movie Awards

By Jacqueline Cutler

After a season of awards shows featuring an endless parade of trophy-clutching actors, it may be hard to muster enthusiasm for yet another. But the "2003 MTV Movie Awards," airing Thursday, June 5, is not just another televised gala.

This is, after all, the only awards show with a category for best kiss something the Oscars might want to consider after the reaction to the liptock Adrien Brody put on Halle Berry at this year's event.

"My favorite category is the best kiss," executive producer Salli Frattini "We always have terrific nominees, and people love to vote for it and people love to watch it."

For the record, the hest kiss nominees are: Tobey Maguire and Kirsten Dunst ("Spider-Man"), Ben Affleck and Jennifer Garner ("Daredevil"), Nick Cannon and Zoe Saldana ("Drumline"), Leonardo DiCaprio and Cameron Diaz ("Gangs of New York"), and Adam Sandler and Emily Watson ("Punch-Drunk Love").

Hosts Seann William Scott and Justin Timberlake are expected to participate in the superhero theme of the 12th annual event. Presenters include Brittany Murphy ("8 Mile"), Jason Biggs ("American Pie 2"), Alyson Hannigan ("Buffy the Vampire Slayer"), Paul Walker ("The Fast and the Furious") and singer-actor Tyrese ("Baby Boy").
This year's show introduces best virtual performance as a category. The nominees are Yoda ("Star Wars"), Kangaroo Jack and Scooby Doo (from their respective self-titled films), Gollum ("The Lord of the Rings: The Two Towers") and Dobby ("Harry Potter and the Chamber of Secrets").

It's an overcast spring day in Baltimore but bright rays of sunlight stream through the upper windows of this prison visitation room where convicted drug lord Avon Barksdale is conferring with his first lieutenant, Stringer Bell.

Like the faux sunbeams, furnished by high-powered lights outside of what is an abandoned veterans' hospital in Baltimore's Fort Howard community. the sinister duo is actually a pair of firstrate actors. Wood Harris and Idris Elba. back in character as HBO's "The Wire" launches a new season on Sunday.

Even more than last season, Baltimore itself will lend its tangible flavor to the story lines, which move in part to the harbor of Maryland's port city. The city's distinctive character not only lends itself to creative cinematography, but also offers an important key to some of the actors who are trying to get a grip on their characters

"When I read the first script, I was convined that it was exaggerated in the way it depicted things here," says Elba, the British-born actor whose silkily sinister Bell is among the most tantalizing characters in the HBO drama, "but while Battimore reminds me a little of some places I know in England, I was surprised by some of the roughness here.

"What I had seen in the script actually was happening in front of my very eyes, so once I got here, Stringer was sort of waiting for me. It just took a couple of days. There is good and there is bad in Baltimore, and they exist right side by

Elba's fellow Brit, Dominic West, likewise got a handle on playing police Detective Jimmy McNulty, the show's main character, only after soaking up some local color after arriving in the

"It would have been much more diffi cult, if not impossible, to do this part in another situation," West says. "I went around with the cops in Baltimore when I got here - and I had known nothing about this city or police work, for that matter - right down to a week before we started shooting the pilot.

"Not only does it help to be surrounded by the environment where your character is from but it also focused my mind because I was away from my own home and all its distractions. Being around the other actors, many of whom are from Baltimore and some were actually police themselves, all that definitely helped a great deal as far as finding this charac-

West's McNulty sets this season's saga into action when he finds the body of a young woman floating in the harbor, leading to investigations into both murder and smuggling. A key figure at the heart of that investigation is teamster boss Frank Sobotka, played by new series regular Chris Bauer ("Third Watch").

As a veteran of Chicago's prestigious Steppenwolf Theatre Company, Bauer hardly needs lessons in building a character, but the actor waxes enthusiastic about his new stomping grounds as he waits to film a scene inside a hotel in Baltimore's gentrified Fell's Point neighbor-

There's something so available in the air here, in the social geography of this place," Bauer says. "The environment is just so rich with the people of this town and the very evident history, especially the history of industry here, the industry of the waterfront. There is such a coll sion here of the social culture and the work. The waterfront is this kind of compact and isolated little society

Frank Sobotka is a singleminded, idealistic, working-class, devoted member of his union who is not going to be sidetracked by people of less vision," Chris Bauer says of his new character on "The Wire," which returns Sunday

"You walk down the street and go to bar and somebody says hello, and they look like they work, you know? Or their parents did. That really helps me key into this guy and his obsessions, for sure. There is just so much heart in this town, in the people I run into, because it is just such a welcoming place, but at the same time you get the feeling that it's not a free pass. You have to have heart and soul, bring something to the party vourself.

The series' striking cinematography by Uta Briesewitz will reflect the wider world of the harbor story lines, while continuing to resolve the drug world stories of Season 1, says executive producer Robert

London's calling for Fox's 'Keen Eddie'

By Kate O'Hare

If you're talking about modern London, there's the frothy, tea-and-crumpet-y "Notting Hill" version, and then there's the darkly funny, quick-cut criminal underworld of "Lock, Stock and Two Smoking Barrels" and "Snatch"

In which London does Eddie Arlette live? You decide.

In the opening scene of Fox's new series "Keen Eddie," New York police Detective Eddie Arlette (Mark Valley) is stuffed in the back seat of a car, hands tied and blindfolded. He wrinkles his nose, saying, "This blindfold smells funny."

The driver deadpans in a Cockney accent, "That's one of my socks."

Before the scene is over, Eddie has tried to escape, gotten a plastic milk jug attached to his foot, fallen down, been called a "wanker" by a passing motorcyclist and nearly been flattened by a double-decker bus.

Not exactly a promising start for Eddie's new life in London, but it's not like he has a choice.

Premiering Tuesday, June 3, in the spot recently vacated by "24," "Keen Eddie" follows the misadventures of a Gotham cop hornswoggled into blowing a huge international drug bust, who is then ordered to London to pick up the pieces of his shattered case and career.

Faced with disgrace and unemployment, he reluctantly goes. After food poisoning on the plane, he arrives to find that the flat he has rented is already inhabited - by the owner's snippy daughter, Fiona (Sienna Miller), and her cat, Duchess - he has the wrong suitcase, and his new boss at Scotland Yard, Superintendent Nathanial Johnson (Colin Salmon), is not in a forgiving mood.

To top it all off, his apparently buttoned-down new partner, Monty Pippin (Julian Rhind-Tutt), pretends to be married to go to spouse-swapping parties

"He thinks he's not a fish out of water," Valley says. "Eddie starts to think that he really knows what's going on. He understands the ropes. He's got the city down. Eddie's taking over. It's his way of coping with change.

"It's going to be a gradual attenuation of his self-confidence."

Announced to critics last summer, "Keen Eddie" has been a long time appearing, having already finished its production schedule in London. The creation of J.H. Wyman ("The Mexican"), it's executive-produced by Simon West ("Con Air," "The General's Daughter") and former NBC programming chief Warren Littlefield.

"We feel like the great sixth man on the basketball team," Littlefield says: "We're like, 'Put us in, coach! We're ready to play!"

Littlefield had hoped to get "Keen Eddie" on for fall, then perhaps at midseason, but ultimately feels the show's appearance as fresh summer programming will serve it well - provided it's on the right night.

"When it was on the table for summer consideration with a Tuesday berth," he says, "that's where I just pushed all my chips across the table and said, 'Yes, that's where I want to bet. I'm with you. If you can deliver on that ... just don't tell me Friday in the summer, that's a disaster."

Littlefield refers to Valley as "a stud," emphasizing his appeal to both men and women. "Mark's a man's man, strong, square-jawed hero, with a sense of humor."

As for Miller, with her mop of blond hair and fetching overbite, Littlefield says, "I believe this will be a vehicle where she absolutely breaks out."

Also expected to take America by storm is a black-and-white miniature bull terrier named Dozer, who plays Eddie's bad-tempered dog, Pete. A terror to both TV remote controls (which he chews) and Fiona's cat (the recipient of unwanted cross-species sexual advances), Pete caps off Eddie's total disruption of Fiona's ordered lifestyle.

The producers bought Dozer off the Internet in the United Kingdom, rescuing him from life in a box under the stairs of his crack-dealing owner. Training company Birds & Animals Unlimited then had four weeks to turn this streetwise rookie into a showbiz pro.

"Pete's a scene-stealer," Littlefield says. "Pete is never a victim. He never plays below anybody in the scene. And when he's pissed, he bites Eddie."

"He loves me so much more when I have a handful of beef jerky," Valley says. "You see those moments when he's looking at me adoringly, it's because I have a handful of liverwurst. Otherwise, he's like, 'Whatever.' "

"He was a street crack dog," Littlefield says. "Now he lives on an English country estate and has a driver take him to work. He is a very happy

In a way, Valley sees the relationship between Pete and Eddie as something like Eddie's relationship with Johnson, who at first figures he can use the brash American as a way to advance at Scotland Yard.

"I'm making a big jump here," Valley says. "I'm going out on a branch. You don't really know for sure why Eddie has Pete - for protection, possibly. Pete's got something on him, and he can't guite figure it out.

"It's the same thing with Johnson and Eddie. There are qualities that they each have, that they don't understand. They're going to learn from each other."

In the meantime, Eddie and Pippin also are finding a way to relate. "You got to admit," Valley says, "whenever two guys have to spend an awful lot of time together, the question is going to come up. There's always that thing of, 'Oh my God, are we gay?' Like, not physically, but you're enjoying each other's company - you know what I mean?

"It could be read that way, and we joke about it, but they're just two regular guys hanging out, spending an awful lot of time together."

In the Spotlight

Showtime's 'Out of Order' well-acted fare for adults

By John Crook © Zap2it

The long marriage of a Hollywood writing team is becoming "Out of Order" in a new Showtime limited-run drama of that title premiering Sunday, June 1.

Eric Stoltz stars as Mark, a screenwriter who has spent much of his life viewing the world around him as if it was a movie set. His current project, collaborating on a popcorn flick with wife Lorna (Felicity Huffman, "Sports Night"), is seriously complicated by her ongoing battle with clinical depression. It's a struggle she isn't winning by self-medicating and boozing it up with washed-up producer, Steven (former Oscar nominee William H. Macy).

In fact, Mark has remained faithful to Lorna during their 16-year marriage, despite blatant come-ons from women such as Annie (Justine Bateman, "Family Ties"), the mother of one of their son's schoolmates. He's beginning to wonder whether he needs to cut his losses and move on, especially after he meets the lovely and charming Danni (Kim Dickens), whose son plays soccer with their son.

"This series deals with issues anyone can relate to and believe in, certainly anyone who has ever been in love," Stoltz says. "How do I stay with this person? Will this painful relationship get better? Is it worth it? What is betrayal?

"These are not easy issues, and seeing them played out by smart, funny, kind of screwed-up privileged people is always entertaining."

"Out of Order" is very loosely inspired by the real-life experiences of executive producers Wayne and Donna Powers, the husband-and-wife screenwriting team who created the series.

"I think of Mark as a fraudulent version of myself," says Wayne Powers, who also directed the pilot. "There are a lot of similarities in there: We have been married for 19 years and we've lived through several crises, but it's a fictitious piece."

Its characters may sharply divide audience members. Donna Powers - who, like Lorna, has battled clinical depression - finds Mark's wandering eye pretty unforgivable.

"He's hardly a saint," she says. "His wife is struggling with a very serious illness."

Perhaps, counters Stoltz, but perhaps not.

"It depends on your perspective and life experience," he says. "A lot of people believe that unless you take care of yourself and are healthy yourself, you will have nothing of worth to bring to a relationship.

"The interesting thing about this show is it is not as simple as 'adultery is bad and marriage is good.'"

"Out of Order" is interesting, too, for its unsensational yet frank sexual content, including an underwater interlude between Stoltz and Dickens that may have viewers asking themselves, "Did I just see what I think I saw?" if that scene makes it onto the air.

Stoltz shrugs at the notion that he is pushing the sexual envelope for male actors.

"I'd rather deal with issues of love and sex than something that is violent and brutalizing, or anything with guns," he says. "There's something basically false about a story that is otherwise real and true that is rolling along until the people fall in love and go to bed and suddenly, the sheets are, like, glued to their shoulders. I always think, 'Who makes love like that?'

Eric Stoltz and Felicity Huffman star as Mark and Lorna, a Hollywood screenwriting team whose 16-year-old marriage is going through a very rough patch in "Out of Order," a decidedly adult drama that begins a limited run Sunday on Showtime.

Competing and succeeding in a major golf championship can be challenging enough. Imagine what it must be like to broadcast and play in such an event.

That is what lay ahead for three NBC golf reporters, Gary Koch, Roger Maltbie and Bob Murphy, as they get set to tee it up - and step behind the mike - this week when the Senior PGA Championship gets under way from Aronimink Golf Club in Newtown Square, Pa. ESPN2 will air coverage of the first two rounds Thursday and Friday, June 5-6; NBC broadcasts the final two Saturday and Sunday, June 7-8.

and Sunday, June 7-8.

"Yeah, it's a little more difficult than what I thought it would be," says Murphy, who is a tower reporter for the NBC broadcast, "because we have so many hours of broadcasting, and it's distracting at the same time. You find yourself on the golf course in most cases thinking about what you're going to do in the broadcast, and you'd think it would be the opposite way around."

But there is a method to the madness

But there is a method to the madness for Murphy, who has 11 victories since joining the Champions (formerly Senior) Tour in 1993. When he first became a broadcaster for CBS in 1980, his goal was to give viewers a golfer's eye view of the course because "as a broadcaster and one who ordinarily wouldn't have the chance to play the golf course, there are things happening on the actual shots - acceptance by the greens, etc. -

that sometimes as a straight broadcaster you can't really appreciate," he explains. "But you get out there and play it and you're much more aware of how the surger of playing reing to take place the course of play is going to take place.

"So that part's good because even I find at times when I come off the golf course and come into the booth, that some guys are just not aware of what's going on," Murphy says. "It gives you a great view on putts, a great feel on putts for exactly how fast a putt is or how much turn it's got, the dangers of and bunkers that you don't want to be in."

This year's tournament takes place on the 7,106-yard... Aronimink course marked by many uphill-running par-4 and par-5 holes, as well as an array of bunkers and doglegs that stand between the tree-lined tees and greens. "You're going to see guys struggling to make pars on a lot of holes," Murphy predicts. "I would just guess that this is going to be a difficult tournament in which par is going to be a good score. It'll be long. It'll be tough to putt. When you miss a green, you're going to be praying you can get it close to the hole on hard, firm greens.

on hard, firm greens.

"In this case ... par is always a good score," Murphy says. "People like to see guys play a very hard golf course, get into trouble, get out of trouble, make some birdies on holes that you're not supposed to. All the possibilities are in play in a U.S. Open and a PGA Championship."

Who stands to excel here? "I think that the cast of characters who is playing well," Murphy says, "and you really have to start with Tom Watson, Tom Kite and Hale Irwin. And then you get back into Bruce Lietzke and Bob Gilder, who has been a surprise playing as well as he is. And I'd lean to the guys who are the good short-game players, where the length wouldn't necessarily be such a big factor. In a major championship, the length for the most part is not the biggest factor; it's the difficulty of the golf course overall."

Murphy notes that Watson may be especially driven this year, as his caddie, Bruce Edwards, was recently diagnosed with ALS. "He's a man on a mission right now to win a tournament for his friend Bruce." Murphy says. "With Bruce's disease, he really wants to win one before Bruce has to quit working. So they're both on a mission. I really thought they were going to win (last month's Kinko's Classic of Austin). I just had that feeling. And he came close ... So, it's a bond. I don't know the exact number of years they've worked together, but it's got to be 25-30. So, there's a special mission going on there."

With nearly a century of professional playing experience between them, Murphy indicates he, Koch and Maltbie will be feeling the competitive juices flowing. "I think it'll be kind of fun to see the three of us out there chipping and chopping around," he says. "And there'll be some competition amongst us too for the 'low announcer'

"Atlanta Braves at New York Mets" Sunday, June 1 (ESPN, 8 p.m. ET): A 15-2 opening-day thrashing by the Cubs seemed to set theseason's tone for the New York Mets, whose shoddy defense (a nearly error-a-game pace) and woeful offense (.239 team average) has left them looking way up at the Atlanta Braves, their opponent tonight. The Braves' 4-8 start raised a few eyebrows, but winning 23 of 28 since then vaulted them to the top of the NL East. At the top of their game and the Braves order - are Rafael Furcal and Marcus Giles.

"NBA Finals" Wednesday, June 4 (ABC, 8:30 p.m. ET): After 12 years on NBC, a new era of NBA Finals coverage begins as ABC assumes the microphone. Fans and the network's suits hope to hear play-by-play for an exciting seven-game series (which would last until June 18), a far cry from the dud climax to last year's playoffs, when the Lakers swept the Nets. That one-sided affair was the lowest-rated finals in 20 years. Bill Walton, Tom Tolbert and Brad Nessler call the action.

"Horse Racing" Saturday, June 7 (NBC, 5:30 p.m. ET): The unpredictability of horse racing was evident again in this year's Kentucky Derby when Funny Cide became the first gelding since 1929 to win that race. Now the New York-bred horse is no longer a secret, so it's a safe bet its 12-1 Derby odds will be much shorter prior to today's Belmont Stakes. But can Funny Cide actually buck history and win? Only one gelding has done so in the Belmont: the Woody Stephenstrained Creme Fraiche in 1985.

Movie: My Dog Skip

Frankie Muniz ("Malcolm in the Middle") stars as a quiet boy in 1940s Mississippi who discovers a lifelong friend when his parents (Kevin Bacon, Diane Lane) give him a Jack Russell terrier puppy for his ninth birthday. As World War II looms in the background, boy's best friend warms the hearts of the small town's residents and a lonely child. This 2000 drama is based on the childhood memoir of Willie Morris.

Thursday

8 a.m. on HBO

Movie: Fly Away Home After her mother dies, 13-year-old Amy (Anna Paquin, "X2: X-Men Unit-ed") goes to live with her father (Jeff Daniels), an annoyingly eccentric inventor. Amy feels isolated and miserable until she discovers an orphaned flock of baby geese and adopts them. A truly beautiful, saccharine-free children's story of grief and renewal, this 1996 drama is a wonderful alternative to Hollywood's usual pastel heroes and their talking animal friends.

Movie: A Time to Kill

Matthew McConaughey gives a star-making performance in this intense courtroom drama as a lawyer whose defense of a black man (Samuel L. Jackson) in a racially sensitive case enrages the local Ku Klux Klan. Solid acting by a cast that also includes Sandra Bullock and Kevin Spacey rounds out this absorbing 1996 film from director Joel Schumacher ("Phone Booth"), based on the John Grisham best seller.

7 p.m. on 38-WB

Charmed

All three Halliwell sisters exhibit unusual behavior, thanks to a visit by the Council of Witch Doctors, in "House Call." Paige (Rose McGowan) kidnaps the fiancee of an ex-boyfriend; Phoebe (Alyssa Milano) poses for a provocative centerfold photo; and Piper (Holly Marie Combs) cleans the siblings' manor like there's no tomorrow. Henry Gibson ("Rowan & Martin's Laugh-In") guest

Movie: Evil Never Dies

The Frankenstein legend is contempo-The Frankenstein legend is contemporized in this new suspense movie starring Thomas Gibson ("Dharma & Greg") as a police officer whose wife was killed by an intruder (Simon Bossell) in their home. After witnessing the murderer's execution, the cop is stunned to learn that a professor deception as well.

that a professor (John Waters) has brought the criminal back to life, with more slayings on the horizon. Kather-ine Heigl

Intent

Goren and Earnes (Vincent D'Onofrio, Kathryn Erbe) suspect the murder of an airline baggage supervisor (Colleen Clinton) is a revenge killing in "Baggage." The victim had complained about sexual harassment, and the detectives investigation suggests some of her male co-workers may be involved in credit-card-related amily.

"I'm Sorry, I'm Lost" finishes the seriocomic series' third season, as troubled Nate (Peter Krause) heads for a bar and leaves Claire (Lauren Ambrose) saddled with baby-sitting Poonsibilities. Federico (Freddy Rodriguez) figures out how to deal with Angelica's (Melissa Marsala) continual presence. Brenda (Rachel Griffiths) becomes interested in a neigh-bor. Ruth (Frances Conroy) drops a bombshell on her

All My Children

Kendall knocked a violent Michael unconscious before he could rape Erica. Michael then claimed that Kendall assaulted him. Erica was traumatized when Chris's body was pulled from the water and broke her engagement to Jack for his own protection. Henry made a full confession to the professor and apologized to Maggie, who wondered what kind of relationship they could have now. With Maria having regained her memory, she and Edmund got back together, while Aidan and Mia were left in the cold. Coming: David is

As the World Turns

Rosanna was charged with murder after Carly's blood was found on her gardening tools. Marshall accepted Craig's request to represent Rosanna, while Margo, unaware of this, alerted Jessica that Rosanna.needed an attorney. Katie and Mike found a body by the Old Mill. Molly overheard Rose offering money to Dusty for Spangler and told her that Dusty did the same thing to her, and that he's a con man. Bob agreed not to treat patients, pending proof that he has hurt no one. Coming: Jessica and Marshall head toward another clash.

Bold and Beautiful

Curious about Massimo's lunch invite, Jackie became furious when Massimo only wanted her to encourage Nick to date Brooke. Meanwhile; Nick urged Brooke to consider a life without Ridge and kissed her. When Jackie refused to move out of the beach house. Stephanie became even more determined to win back her husband. Brooke finally told Rick that Hope is Deacon's child. Rick wasn't happy to learn about Brooke's affair, but became incensed when he found out about Bridget and Ridge's involvement, and headed to a confrontation with Ridge. Coming: Brooke is unnerved by Nick's atten-

NBC soap stars saddle up for trip to the country

By Candace Havens

© Zap2it

Country music and NBC soaps are teaming up this week for the Country Music Association's Fan Fair event in downtown Nashville

Thursday through Sunday, June 5-8, stars from "Days of Our Lives" and "Passions" will sign autographs at the Wrangler Exhibit Hall and appear in concerts. Several will perform at the Fan Fair After Hours party at the Wildhorse Saloon on Saturday.

"For the past two years, we've received such an overwhelming warm welcome from the country music fans and artists that we couldn't wait to return to Fan Fair again," says Sheraton Kalouria, senior vice president of NBC Daytime.

The fans love having access to their favorite soap stars, and the country artists love hosting the actors," says Rick Murray, CMA senior director of strategic marketing. "Over the years, several friendships between artists and actors have developed, and, in fact, several of the daytime stars have made return visits to Nashville or visited an artist backstage at concerts in Los Angeles."

Scheduled to appear at the event are: Kristian Alfonso (Hope Brady, "Days"), Peter Reckell (Bo Brady, "Days"), Kyle Lowder (Brady Black, "Days"), Alison Sweeney (Sami Brady, "Days"), Galen Gering (Luis Lopez-Fitzgerald, "Passions"), Lindsay Kor-man (Theresa Lopez-Fitzgerald, "Passions"), McKenzie Westmore (Sheridan Crane, "Passions"), Eric Martsolf (Ethan Winthrop, "Passions"), Jesse Metcalfe (Miguel Lopez-Fitzgerald, "Passions"), Justin Hartley (Fox Crane, "Passions") and several others.

Dear Candace: Can you tell me what happened with the actor who played Leo on "All My Children"? I like him and wish he would come back. -Mary B. via the Inter-

Dear Reader: Josh Duhamel (ex-Leo du Pres) is in preproduction on the film "Win a Date With Ted Hamil-

The actor continues to look for work in prime-time television and film, but hasn't ruled out a return to daytime.

Monday Best Bets

Youthful stars are in the spotlight in this ceremony, taped in early May at the El Rey Theater in Hollywood. Matthew McConaughey and Josh Hartnett are among the presenters, with Alison Lohman ("White Oleander"), Cole Hauser ("2 Fast 2 Furious") and singer-actress Mandy Moore also in attendance.

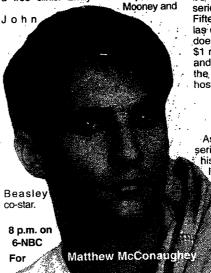

7 p.m. on TBS Movie: EDtv

"The Truman Show" got there first in terms of the basic theme, but director Ron Howard's 1999 spoof of reality shows also has its moments. Matthew McConaughey plays a man whose life unfolds on national television. Things get particularly complicated when he falls for his brother's (Woody Harrelson) girlfriend (Jenna Elfman, "Dharma & Greg").

8 p.m. on 38-WB Everwood

In the series pilot, Dr. Andy Brown (Treat Williams) decides to move his children (Gregory Smith, Vivien Cardone) from New York to a town in Colorado in the wake of his wife's death. His son resents being uprooted from the life he knew, and a local doctor (Tom Amandes) isn't crazy about Andy's decision to open a free clinic. Emily VanCamp, Debra

Love or Money

On "Joe Millionaire," the woman chosen by Evan Marriott got both the man (for a while, at least) and cash.— but it's one or the other on this reality series, which has a two-hour premiere. Fifteen female competitors vie for Dallas defense lawyer Rob Campos, who doesn't know the winner will receive. $1 million. The ladies know it; though, and the last one standing must choose the man or the cash. Jordan Murphy hosts.

Ken Burns American Stories As it did with Burns' "Baseball," this

As it did will builts baseball, this series picks selected episodes from his 2001 miniseries, "Jazz," to repeat. In. "Our Language (1924-1928)," Louis Armstrong becomes a sensation in New York after emigrating from Chicago. Blues music enjoys popularity of its own, thanks to Bessie Smith and others. Cornetist Bix Beiderbecke proves, by working with Paul Whiteman's band, that jazz knows no color barriers.

The science series surveys efforts made to provide consumers with a safer cigarette in "Search for a Safe Cigarette." Most tobacco companies initially resisted such attempts, since they feared the implication that existing cigarettes were dangerous. Now, chemical treatments and curing technologies are being implemented to reduce toxic compounds.

Celine Dion: A New Day Has Come

After being out of the limelight for a time, the music superstar returned to it in the spring of 2002. She performs many of her most popular tunes in this special from Hollywood's Kodak Theatre. In addition to more recent numbers, Dion reprises past hits such as "My Heart Will Go On" and "Because You Loved Me," with Destiny's Child and Brian McKnight as her guests.

7:30 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC NBA Basketball Playoffs

After 12 years on NBC, a new era of NBA Finals coverage begins as ABC assumes the microphone. Fans and the network's suits hope to hear play-byplay for an exciting seven-game series (which would last until June 18), a far cry from the dud climax to last year's playoffs, when the Lakers swept the Nets. That one-sided affair was the lowest-rated finals in 20 years. Bill Walton, Tom Tolbert and Brad Nessler call the action.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC Law & Order

Briscoe and Green (Jerry Orbach, Jesse L. Martin) sift through a neighborhood full of suspects when a drug dealer is murdered in "Under God." Briscoe struggles with memories of his daughter's drug-related death, then is startled when a priest confesses to the killing. McCoy and Southertyn (Sam Waterston, Elisabeth Rohm) must counter a defense built on what the cleric felt was his religious duty.

8 p.m. on 54-UPN The Twilight Zone

Prone to blackouts, a man (Ethan Embry, "Dragnet") finds himself a pawn in an assassination plot with major implications in "Time Lapse." Then, in "Dead Man's Eves," an emotionally shaky widow (Portia de Rossi, "Ally McBeal") finds that her slain husband's (William deVry) eyeglasses provide a literal portal to seeing how he died - and who killed

1997) Mike Myers, Elizabeth Hurley. 'PG-13' 188

7 p.m. on TBS

Movie: Austin Powers: International Man of Mystery

Oh, behave! This 1997 comedy stars Mike Myers as both suave secret agent Powers and his nemesis. Dr. Evil, who emerge from a 30-year cryogenic nap to resume their feud in the 1990s. Seth Green ("The Italian Job") is a treat as Dr. Evil's son, a test-tube baby fighting the pressure to follow in Dad's footsteps.

8 p.m. on TNN Movie: Death Wish

Unlike the several by-the-numbers sequels that followed, this controversial 1974 drama is a compelling melodrama well-staged by director Michael Winner. Charles Bronson arguably has his most famous role as architect Paul Kersey, who turns New York vigilante after an at-home assault on his wife and daughter (Hope Lange, Kathleen Tolan) ends tragically. Jeff Goldblum briefly is on view as one of the women's vicious attackers.

(Ratings for each film begin with a "star" rating - one star meaning "poor," four meaning "excellent" - followed by the Motion Picture Association of America rating, and then by a family-viewing guide, the key for which appears below.)

STARTING THIS WEEK (New releases):

"DIE ANOTHER DAY": James Bond (Pierce Brosnan) must contend with a jinx' - actually, a spying counterpart named Jinx (Halle Berry) - in this fast-paced 20th chapter of the 007 screen adventures. After he is captured and tortured in North Korea, Bond ends up in Iceland where he seeks his betrayer and battles a tycoon (Toby Stephens) who's determined to start World War III. Madonna performs the title song and has a cameo. DVD extras theatrical trailer; DTS surround sound; audio commentaries by director Lee Tamahori and producer Michael G. Wilson, and stars Brosnan and Rosamund Pike; "makingof" documentary; Madonna music video; "making-of" music-video documentary; storyboard-to-screen comparison; photo gallery.  (PG-13: AS, P, V)
"ABOUT SCHMIDT": Impressively steering around his usual acting traits, Jack Nicholson earned another Oscar bid for his performance of a sudden widower left adrift as he begins his widower left admit as ne begins his retirement. Mulling what he's done incorrectly in his life, he shifts his atten-tion to his daughter and son-in-law (Hope Davis, Dermot Mulroney). Costar Kathy Bates, also Oscar-nominated for director Alexander Payne's comedy-drama, sparks a courageous bath-tub scene. DVD extras: theatrical trailer; DTS surround sound; 9 deleted scenes.

Video Vantage

THE GURU": A culture clash is mined for minor laughs in this comedy, which brings a dance teacher (Jimi Mistry) from India to the United States. He aims for an acting career and lands his first role - in what tums out to be a porn film with a seemingly wise co-star (Heather Graham). He repeats her advice on life and soon becomes renowned for it, with many people seeking him as their spiritual guide. Marisa Tomei, Michael McKean and Christine Baranski co-star. DVD extras: audio commentaries by director Daisy von Scherler Mayer and star Mistry; theatrical trailer; deleted scenes; photo gallery.  (R: AS, P) "INVINCIBLE": Directed by German filmmaker Werner Herzog ("Fitzcarraldo"), this true, moving drama recalls the life of Zishe Breitbart (Jouko Ahola), a Polish blacksmith's son who finds fame as a strongman in Berlin. Especially intrigued by his prowess is his boss (Tim Roth), who wants to use Breitbart's strength to court favor with deputies of Adolf Hitler. Breitbart seeks advice from a rabbi (Herbert Golder). Udo Kier also stars. DVD extras: theatrical trailer; DTS surround sound.  (PG-13: AS, P)

"AMERICAN EXPERIENCE: SEABIS-CUIT": The true story of a celebrated racehorse fueled a best seller by Laura Hillenbrand and an upcoming movie starring Tobey Maguire. This recently televised episode of a PBS series also traces the animal's unlikely success given his less-than-ideal physique and not-so-graceful movements. Owner Charles Howard and trainer Tom Smith dedicated themselves to making Seabiscuit a winner despite the considerable odds. DVD extra: interview with producer-director Stephen Ives.  (Not

"BAYWATCH: HAWAIIAN WED-DING": It's a good thing the stars of the long-running, globally popular lifeguard drama kept their physiques after the series ended. Many of them reunite in this TV movie, shown last February by Fox and revolving around Mitch's (David Hasselhoff) imminent wedding. As any "Baywatch" fan knows, bad things happen any time he gets near the altar. Pamela Anderson, Yasmine Bleeth and Carmen Electra also return. DVD extras; 10-minute extension; "Son of the Beach" episode "Heroes."  (Not rated:

COMING SOON (Upcoming releases):

"BIKER BOYZ" (June 10): A white-collar worker (Laurence Fishburne), who becomes a weekend biker known as "Smoke," competes in an annual race. (PG-13: AS, P, V)

"FRIDA" (June 10): Salma Hayek's drama about artist Frida Kahlo recently earned Academy Awards for makeup and Elliot Goldenthal's music score. (R:

"OLD SCHOOL" (June 10): Luke Wilson. Will Ferrell and Vince Vaughn play disillusioned men out to recapture their youth by starting their own fratemity. (R:

"TEARS OF THE SUN" (June 10): A Special Forces officer (Bruce Willis) leads his men into the Nigerian jungle to rescue a doctor (Monica Bellucci) from military rebels. (R: P, V))

'JUST MARRIED" (June 17): Ashton Kutcher ("That '70s Show") and Brittany Murphy ("8 Mile") play newlyweds who honeymoon in Europe. (PG-13: AS))

"NARC" (June 17): Jason Patric plays an ex-police detective brought back into the department to help with a murder investigation; Ray Liotta also stars. (R:

Executed killer's second life suggests 'Evil Never Dies'

Her TV series "Roswell" ended a year ago, but Katherine Heigl can't escape the pull of the supernatural.

After three seasons as alien Isabel Evans, the young actress plays an assistant to a modern Dr. Frankenstein in "Evil Never Dies," a TBS movie thriller premiering Sunday,

After a vicious killer (Simon Bossell) is executed for murdering the wife of a police officer (Thomas "Dharma & Greg") in the couple's home, he is revived in an experiment by a professor (British actor John Waters). Another wave of homicides results, sending the cop in pursuit of the madman he thought

Since she also starred in the 1998 "Child's Play" movie sequel "Bride of 'Chucky," Heigl realizes she has a certain cache in the science-fiction and fantasy genres. "I know that a lot of actors make choices in terms of trying to get away from something," she says, "and I certainly make those choices as well. After 'Roswell,' I felt the need to not play someone of high-school age anymore and play adult roles. As for horror and sci-fi, I thought I'd like to veer more toward romantic comedies, but when a great story comes along, it's hard to pass up the opportunity."

"Frankenstein"-like theme of "Evil Never Dies" was the main lure for Heigl, who went to Australia to make the film. "When I first heard the story, I thought, 'This is ridiculous,' she recalls, "then I read the script and thought, 'Why couldn't this be possible?' It just seemed so real, with all the medical jargon for bringing a corpse back to life, I realized that people could really buy into this. It makes you think about the advances in science that could make something like this possible."

Technical advisers who were on the "Evil Never Dies" set heightened Heigl's faith in the story. "I always think it's really wise for producers to have those sorts of people around," she "Actors have no idea which wires should connect where or whether it'll look believable. Doctors were around during the lab scenes, helping us know which machines were supposed to do what and how to make it look as honest as possible. Today's audiences are so sophisticated that if you don't play to their level of knowledge, they'll resent it."
For all her sci-fi work, the former

Wilhelmina model maintains she hasn't sought such projects purposely. "Science fiction was not something was particularly interested in," Heigl admits. "I'm usually more interested in romances or anything with just a good story that could be real. I did find 'Roswell' fascinating, and through that, I started to get into the genre. It's a whole other world that writers and fans have to believe is possible, and I love mythology, so sci-fi became interesting to me at a time when I didn't think it would be."

Sparked in part by the show's current weeknight repeats on Sci-Fi Channel, mail from "Roswell" fans continues to reach Heigl. "One of the most interesting things about that show for me," she reflects, "was that because Isabel was an alien. I got to do many different things, so that was creatively satisfying. I think anyone's fear of getting involved in a show that could run several years is that you'll be playing only one character for that long; that can get stale for an actor, so on 'Roswell,' I really lucked out."

"Evil Never Dies" is airing soon after Heigl's work as a frontier widow in the Hallmark Channel movie "Love Comes Softly," shown in April. "I've been really fortunate with the timing of all the projects I've done recently, says the actress, who was born in Washington, D.C., but raised in Connecticut. "Each one afforded me the opportunity to do something totally different. I filmed a TV spinoff of the movie 'Romy and Michele's High School Reunion' for ABC, and it was the first time I had ever done broad comedy. I had so much fun.'

Now making an extremely updated version of the Emily Bronte classic "Wuthering Heights" for MTV, Heigh says, "I've never read the book which is just shameful - but this is a very modern adaptation of the original story. There's heroin addiction in it, so it's very modern indeed. ... I was in an adaptation of Shakespeare's 'The Tempest' for NBC. It was set during the Civil War, so you couldn't call it a complete modernization, though it was an update. I'm a huge Shakespeare fan, and I particularly love 'Othello' and 'Romeo and Juliet,' so I found the movie updates of those fascinating."

Katherine Heigl ("Roswell") plays the assistant to a professor who revives an executed killer in "Evil Never Dies," a new TBS movie that premieres
